Best Practice-I – Eco Guard

“QUICKLY REFUSE IF YOU CANNOT RECYCLE OR REUSE”

Objectives:

1. To conserve the environment using newspaper bags and cloth bags as they are 100% biodegradable, reusable and recyclable.
2. To create awareness about the harmful effects of plastic bags and reduces their usage by promoting newspaper bags and cloth bags in college premises as well as in nearby markets.
3. To introduce revenue generating programmes for wards and their parents.

Context:

Plastic below 50 microns is a major contributor to environmental pollution. Even though polythene bags are convenient for carrying wet and bulky products, they are non-degradable and are becoming a major reason for water-logging during rainy seasons in metropolitan cities like Mumbai. Our college is located in Mumbai suburban city. In addition to this if the plastic is burnt, it releases harmful toxic chemicals and if buried in the soil it degrades the fertility of the land. By taking into consideration all these problems, the College NSS Unit and Extension Committee started with newspaper bag making and distribution events which were later upgraded to cloth bag making and distribution.

Practice:

1. The Internal Environmental Protection (IEP) Cell:

- IEP Cell Creating and implementing environmental policies and procedures to guide the organization in its environmental efforts.
- Monitoring and ensuring compliance with environmental regulations and standards set by local, national, and international authorities.
- Providing training and raising awareness among employees about environmental issues, best practices, and their roles in protecting the environment.
- Developing strategies for waste reduction, recycling, and proper disposal of hazardous materials to minimize environmental impact.

Anissha

St. Wilfred's College of Arts, Commerce & Science

- Promoting energy-efficient practices and technologies to reduce energy consumption and carbon footprint.
- Conducting regular audits and assessments of the organization's environmental performance to identify areas for improvement.
- Collaborating with other departments, stakeholders, and external organizations to advance environmental initiatives and share best practices.
- Compiling and reporting environmental performance data to internal and external stakeholders, demonstrating the organization's commitment to environmental responsibility.

2. DEPARTMENTS & NSS role:

The NSS Unit of College started this initiative from the Academic year 2018-19 and has been consistently following this practice every year. The volunteers of the NSS unit learned to make the paper bags through online videos and also took sessions for interested students of the College. For the practice, newspapers were collected from students and from the college library. The students created awareness about the benefits of using these eco-friendly bags as they can be reused or sent for recycling and will save the trees, water and energy. These newspaper bags made by students were distributed to vegetable vendors, retail shops and medical shops free of cost. These newspaper bags were also used by the Examination Committee for packing answer sheets in place of plastic-coated envelopes. This initiative was highly appreciated by all stakeholders. The opinion of the users was that these bags are not durable and they could not be used for carrying wet and bulky products.

3. COMMITTEES:

Committees like Student Council, NSS, etc.:- The volunteers came up with the alternative to plastic bags and newspaper bags in the form of cloth bags. In the Academic year 2018-19, the College NSS unit collected washed old clothes from students to make cloth bags. The cloth bags were stitched by the parents of wards and revenue generated by selling these bags in the market was returned to these parents. The students performed street plays and also conducted a rally to create awareness about the use of cloth bags. The users appreciated this initiative as the cloth bags are more durable, washable and reusable as compared to newspaper bags. This activity was later carried out by the Extension Committee in the year 2019-20 as revenue generation activity for the parents who stitched these bags. The newspaper bag making and distribution activity is continued by the NSS unit.

Evidence of Success:

This response is presented below 3 heads:

1. STUDENTS ACHIEVEMENT:

Students have organized massive climate strikes globally, demanding action from governments and corporations to address climate change. Students have initiated campaigns in schools and communities to reduce single-use plastic consumption, leading to the implementation of plastic bags and the promotion of reusable alternatives. Students have conducted research projects on various environmental issues, contributing to scientific knowledge and informing conservation efforts and policy decisions.

2. COLLEGE FACILITIES:

College facilities for environmental protection can encompass a variety of initiatives, programs, and infrastructure aimed at promoting sustainability, reducing environmental impact, and fostering a culture of conservation. Such as:-

- Implementing policies and practices to minimize waste, conserve energy, and reduce water consumption across campus. This may include installing energy-efficient lighting, using renewable energy sources, implementing water-saving fixtures, and promoting recycling and composting programs.
- Integrating environmental topics into the curriculum across disciplines, offering courses or majors in environmental studies, organizing workshops, seminars, and events to raise awareness about environmental issues, and promoting sustainability literacy among students, faculty, and staff.
- Collaborating with local communities, government agencies, non-profit organizations, and businesses to address environmental issues beyond campus borders.

- Implementing comprehensive waste reduction and recycling programs, providing recycling bins, composting facilities, and e-waste recycling services on campus, and promoting waste reduction practices among students, faculty, and staff.

3. FOR COMMUNITY:

In the last five years, these various courses and committees have undertaken many IEP activities. To name a few:

Problems encountered:

1. Motivating and involving large number of students in these activities is a challenge.
2. In activities outside the College campus, maintaining discipline of the students is a huge responsibility.
3. The semester pattern of examination imposes time constraints on the staff and student volunteers.
4. Limitation of funds / resources.

Title	World Ozone Day
Date	16 September 2019
Venue	St. Wilfred College of Arts, Commerce and Science
Organized by	Student Development Cell
Faculty Coordinator	Asst.Prof. Prachi Sinha
Resource Person	Asst.Prof. Sankar V
Event Summary	The ozone layer, located in the Earth's stratosphere, plays a crucial role in protecting life on Earth by absorbing most of the sun's harmful ultraviolet (UV) radiation. Its depletion can lead to increased cases of skin cancer, cataracts, and other health issues in humans, as well as harm to ecosystems and marine life. World Ozone Day serves as a reminder of the progress made in phasing out ODSs and the importance of continued global efforts to protect and restore the ozone layer. It also raises awareness about the link between ozone depletion and climate change, as well as the need for sustainable practices to mitigate both environmental challenges.

Social Welfare

Objective:

St. Wilfred college of Arts, Commerce and Science play a multifaceted role in promoting social welfare by educating individuals, conducting research, engaging with communities, advocating for social justice, providing support services, and fostering innovation.

1. College programs aimed at educating and supporting lower minorities is crucial for fostering a more inclusive society. These initiatives can encompass various facets, including academic support, mentorship, and community outreach.
2. One approach is to establish scholarships specifically targeting students from underrepresented communities, providing them with financial assistance to pursue higher education.
3. Offering mentorship programs where students from marginalized backgrounds are paired with faculty or upperclassmen mentors can provide invaluable guidance and support throughout their college journey.
4. Furthermore, engaging in community outreach initiatives allows college students to apply their knowledge and skills to address societal issues affecting marginalized populations.

Context:

The institution's goal and objectives are centred on providing value-based education. Building relationships with society is facilitated by the College's institutional social responsibility. Through the ISR initiatives, our students may positively impact the lives of the segments of the population with less privilege. The College works to instil in its pupils the principles of sharing and compassion for the elderly and members of underprivileged groups.

- The college has established an ISR Cell. Students' organizational abilities get better as they actively participate in organizing and arranging various ISR projects. The College organizes ISR events on a number of levels.
- Each course plans a social initiative activity in which students handle all event planning.
- Committees like the NSS and Students Council are involve providing mentorship, funding, or resources to students who want to start ventures aimed at addressing social or environmental challenges.

- We can work towards building a more equitable and inclusive society where everyone has the opportunity to thrive.

Practice:

1. The Institutional Social Responsibility (ISR) Cell:

The ISR cell may organize various outreach programs aimed at benefiting the local community. This could involve organizing health camps, educational workshops, or skill development programs for underprivileged individuals in the surrounding area. Encouraging and supporting social entrepreneurship initiatives among students can be another aspect of ISR work.

2. DEPARTMENTS:

Students often initiate various social welfare programs and initiatives to address pressing issues in their communities. Students organize events such as food drives, clothing donation campaigns, or clean-up efforts to support those in need and improve the local environment.

3. COMMITTEES:

Committees like Student Council, NSS, etc.

- Students often lead initiatives to promote sustainability, such as tree planting drives, recycling programs, or campaigns to reduce plastic waste.
- Students may organize health fairs, blood drives, or mental health awareness campaigns to promote well-being within their communities.

Evidence of Success

This response is presented below 3 heads:

1. STUDENTS ACHIEVEMENT:

- Students start tutoring or mentoring programs to help younger students excel academically, or they might organize workshops on topics like literacy, financial literacy, or health education.
- Students often raise awareness about social justice issues, such as poverty, discrimination, or human rights abuses, through rallies, educational events, or social media campaigns.
- Students might work on projects to improve infrastructure, access to clean water, or housing conditions in underserved areas.
- Students may also develop apps or online platforms to address social challenges, such as connecting volunteers with opportunities or providing resources for marginalized communities. These initiatives demonstrate the creativity, passion, and commitment of students to making a positive impact on society

2. COLLEGE FACILITIES:

College plays a vital role in social welfare through various avenues:

- College provides education and training to individuals, empowering them with knowledge and skills to contribute positively to society. This includes academic programs focused on social work, public health, education, and other fields directly related to social welfare.
- College conducts research on social issues, contributing valuable insights and solutions to address societal challenges. This research informs policies and practices aimed at improving social welfare outcomes.
- College often engages with local communities through outreach programs, volunteering initiatives, and partnerships with nonprofit organizations. These efforts address community needs and promote social inclusion.

- College serve as advocates for social justice and equity, raising awareness about systemic issues and advocating for policy changes to advance social welfare agendas.
- College provides support services such as counseling, healthcare, and financial aid to students, addressing their diverse needs and promoting holistic well-being.
- College foster innovation and entrepreneurship, encouraging students and faculty to develop solutions to social challenges through startups, social enterprises, and community projects.

3. FOR COMMUNITY:

In the last five years, the various courses and committees have undertaken many ISR activities. To name a few: Students Council, Social Welfare Committee, and VIBGYOR

Problems Encountered and Resources Required

- It can be difficult to engage and motivate a big class of students in these kinds of activities.
- Sustaining student discipline in extracurricular activities is a major responsibility of the college.
- Restriction on finances or resources.

Date	16 October 2022
Venue	St. Wilfred College of Arts, Commerce and Science
Organized by	NSS & Library Science Department
Faculty Coordinator	Dr. Anirudha Rishi
Resource Person	Mrs Mamata Maruti Gorali
Event Summary	Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam remains an inspirational figure globally, admired for his humility, dedication to science, and vision for a better world. Even after his passing in 2015, his legacy continues to inspire millions, especially the youth, to dream big and work towards the progress of humanity. Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam was an eminent Indian scientist, aeronautical engineer, and the 11th President of India. Born on October 15, 1931, in Rameswaram, Tamil Nadu, Kalam played a crucial role in India's civilian space program and military missile development. Here's a glimpse into his life and work. Dr. Kalam led various projects in the DRDO, notably the development of ballistic missile technology. He played a pivotal role in the development of India's first indigenous Satellite Launch Vehicle (SLV-III) and the Agni and Prithvi missiles in 2002; Kalam was elected as the President of India, serving until 2007.

Date	24 December 2021
Venue	St. Wilfred College of Arts, Commerce and Science
Organized by	Student Development Cell & NSS
Faculty Coordinator	Mr. Ramdas Damu Ruthe
Resource Person	Dr. Anirudha Rishi
Event Summary	College organized a food festival on National Consumer Day, celebrated on December 24th, can be a creative and engaging way to raise awareness about consumer rights while also celebrating culinary diversity and promoting local cuisine. Here's how you can organize a food festival on this occasion: Prioritize food safety and hygiene standards to ensure the well-being of festival attendees. Educate food vendors about proper food handling practices, sanitation, and cleanliness guidelines. Set up hand washing stations and provide guidelines for safe food preparation and serving. Organize cooking demonstrations, culinary workshops, and interactive sessions where attendees can learn about food preparation techniques, healthy cooking tips, and sustainable food practices. Invite local chefs, nutritionists, and food experts to lead these sessions.

Organized by	Student Development Cell & NSS
Faculty Coordinator	Prakash Jawahire
Resource Person	Dr. Neetu Sharma
Event Summary	Bhimrao Ramji Ambedkar, also known as Babasaheb Ambedkar, was a towering figure in Indian history, revered as the chief architect of the Indian Constitution and a tireless advocate for social justice and the rights of marginalized communities. Born on April 14, 1891, in Mhow, Central India, he belonged to the untouchable Mahar caste, facing discrimination and social exclusion from a young age. Despite facing immense obstacles, Ambedkar rose to become one of India's most prominent leaders, earning degrees in economics and law from the University of Bombay and the London School of Economics. He was the first untouchable to obtain a college education in India.

Title	Celebration of The birth of Dr. Radhakrishnan
Date	5 September 2020
Venue	St. Wilfred College of Arts, Commerce and Science
Organized by	Student Development Cell
Faculty Coordinator	Dr. Neetu Sharma
Resource Person	Asst. Prof. Braj Mohan
Event Summary	It's a day when students express their gratitude and appreciation to their teachers for their guidance, support, and dedication. Schools and colleges organize special events, cultural programs, and felicitation ceremonies to honor teachers for their invaluable role in shaping the future of the nation. The significance of Dr. Radhakrishnan's birthday for Teachers' Day stems from his own reverence for education and the teaching profession. Rather than celebrating his birthday, Dr. Radhakrishnan suggested that his birthday be commemorated as a day to honor teachers, emphasizing their crucial role in society.

Title	Non Violence Day (Gandhi Jayanti)
Date	2 October 2020
Venue	St. Wilfred College of Arts, Commerce and Science
Organized by	Student Development Cell & NSS
Faculty Coordinator	Dr. Neetu Sharma
Resource Person	Asst. Prof. Braj Mohan
Event Summary	Gandhi Jayanti holds great significance in India and around the world as a day to honour Gandhi's principles of truth, non-violence, peace, and social justice. It serves as a reminder of his enduring legacy and his contributions to humanity through his philosophy of Satyagraha (truth-force) and Ahimsa (non-violence). One of the most iconic traditions of Gandhi Jayanti is the spinning of the charkha (spinning wheel), symbolizing Gandhi's emphasis on self-reliance, economic independence, and the empowerment of rural communities. Additionally, public figures, politicians, and ordinary citizens may participate in peace marches, cleanliness drives, blood donation camps, and other acts of community service as a way to honour Gandhi's commitment to social welfare and humanitarianism.

Date	5 September 2018
Venue	St. Wilfred College of Arts, Commerce and Science
Organized by	Student Development Cell
Faculty Coordinator	Aparna Jaware Morel
Resource Person	Dr. Neetu Sharma
Event Summary	Teacher's Day is an occasion to honour and express gratitude to teachers for their invaluable contribution to shaping the lives of students. Schools and educational institutions organize special events, assemblies, and cultural programs to celebrate the day. Students often present gifts, cards, and flowers to their teachers as tokens of appreciation. Dr. Radhakrishnan himself advocated for the importance of education and the role of teachers in society. To honour his legacy, his birthday was chosen as Teacher's Day in India. It's a day not only to remember his contributions but also to recognize the dedication and hard work of teachers in guiding and nurturing the future generations

Name of Activity	Non Violence Day (Gandhi Jayanti)
Title	Non Violence Day (Gandhi Jayanti)
Date	2 October 2018
Venue	St. Wilfred College of Arts, Commerce and Science
Organized by	Student Development Cell
Faculty Coordinator	Dr. Neetu Sharma
Resource Person	Asst. Prof. Braj Mohan
Event Summary	This day serves as a reminder of Gandhi's principles of truth, non-violence, and peaceful resistance, which he employed in India's struggle for independence from British rule. Gandhi's philosophy of ahimsa (non-violence) continues to inspire movements for peace, human rights, and social change around the world. On Gandhi Jayanti, various events and activities are organized to commemorate Gandhi's life and teachings, including prayer services, cultural programs, seminars, and rallies promoting non-violence and communal harmony. It is also a national holiday in India, where schools, government offices, and businesses may close to observe the occasion.
