

Zero Tolerance Policy

Harassment, bullying, and grievances of any kind are not tolerated at St. Wilfred's College of Arts, Commerce, and Science. Our organization is dedicated to creating a space where students, instructors, and support staff can collaborate happily.

In order to fulfill this goal, our college has established numerous committees, including the Internal Complaint Committee, the Grievance Redressal Committee, and the Anti-Ragging Committee, in accordance with the pertinent provisions of the Sexual Harassment of Women at Work Act, 2013. The Institute offers a procedure that allows complaints to be handled properly and appropriate disciplinary action to be taken.

Furthermore, in an effort to stop these incidents on campus, the Committees host a variety of student awareness-raising events. Events like Nukkad Natak, debates, guest lectures, workshops, poster competitions, etc. The College promises to handle everyone with grace, decency, and respect.
